By way of illustrating the power of the cross, we venture to reprint an oft-told story of the lamented Dr. Charles A. Berry’s experience (of Wolverhampton), as he told it to his friend J. H. Jowett, of Birmingham, England:

One night there came to me a Lancashire girl, with her shawl over her head and with clogs on her feet.

“Are you the minister?” she asked.

“Yes.”

“Then I want you to come and get my mother in.”

Thinking it was some drunken brawl, I said, “You must get a policeman.”

“Oh, no,” said the girl, “my mother’s dying, and I want you to get her into salvation.”

“Where do you live?”

“I live so-and-so, a mile and a half from here.”

“Well,” said I, “is there no minister nearer than I?”

“Oh, yes; but I want you, and you have got to come.”

I was in my slippers, and I soliloquized and wondered what the people of the church would think if they saw their pastor walking late at night with a girl with a shawl over her head.

I did all I could to get out of it, but it was of no use. That girl was determined, and I had to dress and go.

I found the place was a house of ill-fame. In the lower rooms they were drinking and telling lewd stories, and upstairs I found the poor woman dying. I sat down and talked about JESUS as the beautiful example and extolled HIM as a leader and teacher.

She looked at me out of her eyes of death, and said, “Mister, that’s no good for the likes of me. I don’t want an example—I’m a sinner.”

There I was face to face with a poor soul dying, and had nothing to tell her. I had no gospel, and I thought of what my mother had taught me, and I told her the old story of GOD’S love in CHRIST’S dying for sinful men, whether I believed it or not.

“Now you are getting at it,” said the woman. “That’s what I want. That’s the story for me.” And so I got her in, and I got in myself!

From that night, I have always had a full gospel of salvation for lost sinners.

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that you may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much.

James 5:16

But the early Christians began to look for defects in one another. Dwelling upon mistakes, giving place to unkind criticism, they lost sight of the SAVIOUR and of the great love HE had revealed for sinners. They became more strict in regard to outward ceremonies, more particular about the theory of the faith, more severe in their criticisms. In their zeal to condemn others they forgot their own errors. They forgot the lesson of brotherly love that CHRIST had taught. And, saddest of all, they were unconscious of their loss. They did not realize that happiness and joy were going out of their lives, and that soon they would walk in darkness, having shut the love of GOD out of their hearts.

Deny that GOD can answer prayer, and HE is degraded into a being less than HIS universe, a prisoner of HIS own creation.
