My Conversion By George Muller

There were twelve hundred students in the university when I was there. For the most part they were a wild, swearing, beer-drinking set. I was ringleader among them in their mad pranks. At that time there were but eight Christian students in the whole twelve hundred. We who were not Christians made it hard for them, but they were brave, manly fellows and had a weekly prayer meeting.

Along toward the close of my university course something seemed to go wrong with me. I was not sick, and I had had no misfortune, but I was unhappy.

So I hiked down into Switzerland, where I expected surely to drop my burden, but I did not.

I grew frightened and hurried back to Halle, and took up my studies again. But my burden grew heavier and heavier. At last

I remembered the eight Christians and their prayer meeting.

One and another told me of Christ. They prayed with me, and I prayed for myself. At last I saw Christ as my Saviour. I believed on Him and gave myself to Him. The burden rolled from off me, and a great love for Christ filled my soul. That was more than fifty years ago. I loved Jesus Christ then, but I loved Him more the year after, and more the year after that, and more every year since.

How much I love Him now I could not begin to tell you. Jesus Christ is my great and glorious and adorable God and Saviour, whose love fills my soul.

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that you may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much.

James 5:16

A Christian woman walking home from the station one night found a girl near the gateway to her house. She took her in, ministered to her needs, gave her a bed, discovered she was desperately ill, made suitable arrangements for medical aid and hospitalization. Then the hospital sent for her with the word that the end was near. She leaned over the bed to speak to the girl about dying, to be greeted with the words, "I have not found it hard to think about GOD since I saw you."

Is there any reward more deeply satisfying than that—the thought that those about us find it easier to think of GOD by reason of our life?

Missionary Albert Schweitzer contended that there are only three ways to teach a child: "The first is by example. The second is by example. And the third is by example."
