Our Unique Bible

By Herbert Lockyer

The middle verse of the whole Bible is Psalm 118:8. The longest verse of the whole Bible is Esther 8:9, containing 90 words.

2 Kings 19 and Isaiah 37 are exactly alike. Ezra 2 and Nehemiah 7 are similar.

The last two verses of 2 Chronicles and the opening verses of Ezra are alike.

The word "Jehovah" occurs 6,855 times in the Bible.

The name of "God" does not occur in Esther or in the Song of Solomon.

In Psalm 107, four verses are alike: 8, 15, 21 and 31.

Each verse in Psalm 136 ends alike.

The Bible was divided into chapters by Cardinal Hugo de Sancto-Caro, about 1236.

The Old Testament was divided into verses by Rabbi Mordecai Nathan in 1661.

The New Testament was divided into verses by R. Stephens, a French printer, it is said while on horseback.

The Septuagint, a translation into Greek was made in Egypt 285 B.C.

The Scriptures have been translated into 936 languages or dialects as of 1935

The first complete English translation was by Wycliffe in 1380 A.D.; the first French translation in 1160; the German translation in 1460, the American translation in 1752.

There is a Bible in the library of the University of Gottingen written on 2,470 palm leaves.

Our English Bible is the combined writings of about forty men. These men were not contemporary, but lived at various times during a period of more than 1,500 years. These men wrote under the most varied conditions. Some wrote in prison, some in palaces, others in caves, in deserts, by the river bank, in exile, in victory, in defeat, in success—in fact, under almost every possible condition.

These men were from every walk of life. Kings, peasants, priests, fishermen, generals, shepherds, noblemen, tax-gatherers, doctors, lawyers, statesmen, and politicians are among its writers. They wrote about every subject which vitally affects men; creation; the origin, working, and destiny of sin, death, life, nations, governments; hell and heaven; and the being, character, and plan of God.

Such is our Bible, so majestic, exalted, and marvelous in its sweep.

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that you may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man avails much.

James 5:16

The Lord works in no haphazard way. Seek Him most earnestly in prayer. He will impress the mind, and will give tongue and utterance. The people of God are to be educated not to trust in human inventions and uncertain tests as a means of learning God's will concerning them. Satan and his agencies are always ready to step into any opening to be found that will lead souls away from the pure principles of the Word of God. The people who are led and taught of God will give no place to devisings for which there is not a "Thus saith the Lord"
